

SECTION IV NEW WORLD MEDIA

The following document is what has been titled 'the Manfield document,' a particularly interesting piece of modern history, and a major turning point of the New World Committee, what they consider to be one of their final victories of establishment. The World Media Commission was early on faced with the realization that media anarchists like Manfield still existed and continued to have a vast influence upon local populations as well as their perceptions of the New World Order.

In the former United States of America, it was known as the first amendment, the freedom of speech and press, the legal ability to say what one wanted, no matter what its outcome might perpetuate. The first amendment was one of the last amendments to be abolished in the United States, leading the way for the World Media Commission to better inform the world public of world happenings without the threat or intrusion of 'alternative media,' a term that came about in the very early 21st century when technology began to advance rapidly.

Fredrick Manfield's document was the last one widely circulated to the populations of the world, and it was one that stirred much controversy and inspired some of the terrorist uprisings of the early 2020's. After 'the Manfield document,' the New World Committee unanimously voted to end all extra governmental subsidiary media outlets and centralize all news media into the World Media Commission.

Fredrick Manfield was born in 1978 in Denver Colorado. His parents were George and Gloria Manfield, his father spending most of his life as the city controller of Denver and his mother a schoolteacher for a local middle school.

In 2000, after having graduated with a degree in journalism from the University of Colorado in Denver, Manfield took a job at a local radio station as its daily news voice. He left after only a year to take up a job at The Denver Post, where he eventually made a name for himself as an investigative journalist after calling into question well known conspiracies of the September 11th attacks of 2001.

Eight years later, he took an editorial position in Sarasota, New York at The Herald Tribune, where he wrote 'the Manfield document' in what is assumed to be a personal commentary about the Media Restructuring Act of 2020. Manfield was subsequently arrested for homeland terrorism and sedition and remains in a FEMA prison to this day.

The following is 'the Manfield document' in its entirety, it is a compelling case study into what the World Media Controllers office has called 'the mind of a madman, a ravenous example of hate speech that should strike fear into every citizen of the world.'

ORIGINAL MANFIELD DOCUMENT:

July 31, 2020

My name is Fredrick Manfield, I am one of many editors at The Herald Tribune, a now rundown online newspaper, paper newspapers having been done away with years ago, no longer needed in the technologically driven world that we live in.

My purpose in writing this last hoorah of an expose, as I know that I will never write for any government owned corporate newspaper again, is to bring to light certain facts that have been known for decades, just ignored. I know that this will never be printed anywhere, though I know the right people to send this to so as to get this out and in a small underground circulation of other such documents and writings.

I'll probably be arrested for sedition and be locked up with the other so called 'homeland terrorists,' but I do not mind, this hell hole of a world governmental system is one that no one should ever have been subjected to. And subjects we are, slaves to the master controllers of the World Committee, a name given to them by the media complex early on.

We were told throughout the whole process, at every step of the New World Order takeover that we were free, we were giving up our lives and our securities for freedom. In reality, it's all a sham, there is no freedom, no liberty, no democracy, no civil or human rights, it's just us and THEM!

I write this as a member of the media, one of few who were trusted with 'stories' and 'facts,' nothing more than planned lies that we were supposed to write and publish no questions asked. Those who did ask questions were mocked, slandered, their reputations were killed, their fate sealed by those who loomed over us with control. It was frightening to watch, it only happened early on after the Media Control Act of 2020, but the worst part was I did nothing, nobody did anything, we sat around and let it happen, pretending that we would not be next.

Who could have stopped it? What was there to do? Now that it is in place, I do not even know that there is any end other than for the power hungry elites to finally once and for all destroy themselves and drag the rest of us along with them. But being the optimist that I've always been, I'll drag in the question, is anyone willing to stand up to them, fight them?

I write this to tell the truth, to show off the elephant in the room, to get this off of my chest, this weight on my conscience that has been killing me for years now, so much so that I do not even fear the horrible fate that the elites have in store for me.

The truth is, things are much worse than we realized. Everybody laid down their everything for this New World Order, it was all for the good, we were doing it for the children, to end world hunger and poverty. It was all a lie, many have died fighting the New World Order, many have died from hunger, disease and thirst. Death hovers above threatens [sic] everyone of us everyday, the children are victims to heinous crimes committed in the name of science by the New World Order, it is madness, it has to end!

A report came across my desk the other week, and at first I didn't know what to make of it, it was a list of goals that the New World Order had coming for us, I imagine that we were supposed to spin it up as a good thing and present it to the people, but I couldn't bring myself to do it. I later learned that no official report had been given down from the Media Commission and that the one that I had seen suddenly disappeared. At first, I thought nothing of it, then my investigative instincts that had been quelled over the course of years kicked back in; that report was given to me in hopes that I... I alone may bring the truth to light, and it was a horrifying one.

Of everything that was presented to me, population reduction stuck out the most. It was something that has been talked about for years by many powerful people like Prince Philip and Ted Turner and Bill Gates and it was going to start taking place and no one outside of the elite class was going to be exempt. They were going to release bioweapons against the world; it was going to be the end of everything.

There was also the reality of GMO, a study done that was covered up and not allowed to be seen by the public that detailed the absolute danger of GMO foods, and a personal insert from one of the researchers gave details of how the elites kept frozen in the arctic seeds that were non GMO and then sat there and told the rest of us that we had to eat GMO, it was so good for us, it was for the children, it would end world hunger, yet they would not dare take their own medicine.

In the interest of brevity, I'll skip the rest of what was revealed, I have no room to write it all down. It is the job of the media to tell the news... well, here it is people, be ready for a lot of death. We didn't stand up before this all took place, now we must live with it!

I implore all of you reading this, run and hide, it's all we have left. Question everything, if there is any hope, it lies within the elite or the World Police, there is no more stopping it, once they kill us off, it will be them alone to destroy the world as they please.

I'll be called crazy, I'll be labeled as a homeland terrorist, I'll be arrested, but the truth has a way of getting out. We let them take guns, we let them take speech, we let them take our homes, our land, we let them take everything from us, but I beg everyone, DO NOT let them take you, your person, your soul, your spirit, they can NEVER take it from you.

I must finish this and send it off and take off to hide away as best as I can, no doubt I will be turned in and found in short order. It was a pleasure being an editor for this paper and it was a pleasure bringing you the people the news.

Stay safe, be strong, and don't ever let the New World Order tell you who you are!

Fred 'Manny' Manfield

As you can see from the above Manfield document, the dangers of freethinking and free speaking cannot be stressed enough. Fredrick Manfield was a dangerous person not because he was a freethinking person; no, he was dangerous because the power of free thought leads a person eventually into the realm of non-conformity, a characteristic that cannot be allowed in the New World Order.

In the new system, the handicap of a man is measured solely by his ability to break free, the more likely he is to do so, the more of a handicap he is to the advancement of society. It cannot be stressed enough how important it is that the content of media be closely monitored and controlled by the World Media Commission and be released to the public in such a way as to arouse calm and sedation in the population.

The uprisings of 2020 cannot be allowed to repeat themselves, the revolutions need to be ended, the true calling of the Manfield document is peace and the Private Media Abolition Act of 2022 achieved just that. It will be only through limited knowledge that the New World Order will advance and its strict guidelines will encourage persons to become contributing citizens of the world. Any person who acts outside of these guidelines needs to be contained for special re-education and after a time they may be re-released into the general population at large to be given another chance.

Fredrick Manfield was merely an object of history, nothing more, nothing less. His time and his talent ran its course, his was a needed lesson, for without him the launch into the better and more informative World Media Commission would have been a longer struggle, so for saving us the time and efforts we do thank him.
